

On pseudo-differential operators in impedance wave diffraction problems

David Kapanadze

Abstract

We investigate pseudo-differential operators which emerge in impedance wave diffraction problems. Using the potential method, from the original boundary value problem we derive systems of integral equations which will translate the initial problem. The main result culminates with the invertibility of the corresponding matrix pseudo-differential operators in appropriate function spaces.